Statues of Five Hundred Buddha's Disciples on Mt. Shirataki

On 227-meter-high Mt. Shirataki, Yoshimitsu Murakami built the Kannondo Temple complete with Gohyaku Rakan, or stone statues of 500 disciples of Buddha. About 700 statues of different sizes, carved by Denroku Kashihara and his disciples, stand closely together on the summit. The mountain top provides a panoramic view of the island-studded Seto Inland Sea spreading out below. Impressed by this view, Poet Isamu Yoshii, wrote this poem: "Climbing up the mountain of Shirataki, a great view spreads out, islands on the sea, the sea with islands." The view of Mt. Shirataki and pyrethrum fields has been chosen as one of the best 100 rural sceneries in Japan.

- Access A 25 min. walk from the Flower Center bus stop

Innoshima Park

Designated as a special area of the national park, the Innoshima Park offers a splendid view which represents the scenic beauty of the Seto Inland Sea. Along with about 1,000 cherry trees, there are many things to see, such as Suigun pirates memorials, a stone monument of Fumiko Hayashi's literary work, 5-meter-high Sabadaishi statue and Tsureshio no Ishibumi stone-paved trail (Path of Literature).

- Access A 5 min. by taxi or a 15 min. walk from Habu Port.

Memorial Park of Innoshima Ohashi Bridge

This park was built underneath the Innoshima Ohashi Bridge to commemorate its completion. Ohamasaki Lighthouse, its Memorial Museum and a camping ground are around here. It's a recommended spot for surf fishing.

- Access A 10 min. walk from Innoshima Ohashi bus stop

Jizobana Guardian Statue

A stone image of Jizo, a guardian deity, was carved on a rock to pray for the spirit of a woman captured by the Murakami pirates. Now it is believed by the locals as Jizo which answers the prayers of women.

- Access A 20min. Walk after 8min. Get off Hama Ue, ride on a Westbound for Sansho.

Aokage / Okuyama Hiking Course

A 4-km hiking trail stretches across the island from east to west, connecting Mt. Okuyama, the highest mountain in the island, and Mt. Aokage where the medieval castle of Murakami Suigun pirates remains.

- Access Get off at Kanayama bus stop, walk 30 min. to a starting point of the trail on Mt. Aokage

Why not stop off for a while to enjoy the charm of Innoshima?

The white flowers of pyrethrum, which used to be cultivated as the raw material of pesticide, covered the entire island in May, signaling the change of season. Now they are cultivated in three areas (of approx. 4,700 m<sup>2</sup>) in order for local residents to enjoy the view. The flowers are at their best in early May.
